To whom it may concern,

This letter is to verify that Robin Delves joined the 43m Perini Navi sailing yacht 'Paz', in the position of First Officer, on October the eighth 2009.

Unfortunately a week after Robin joined the vessel, and for reasons of my own lack of faith in the abilities of the manager that has been allocated to Her, I handed in my notice as Paz's Captain.

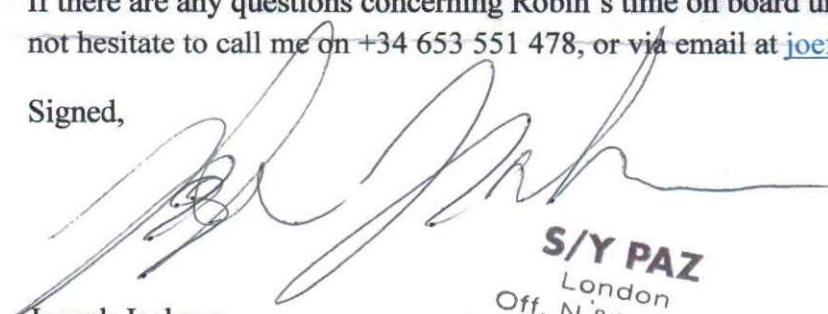

Because of my decision, Robin now finds himself being unsure as to whether he wants to stay on board under a different command, and is therefore, of his own free will, investigating his options.

While I have sailed with Robin previously, on board the classic schooner Altair during Les Voiles de Saint Tropez, this is the first time we have worked together in a full time capacity, and, even though this has only been for a short time, he has proved himself to be a hard working, conscientious, and fully competent individual, who would, I believe, become a valuable crew member on board any vessel he finds himself on in the future.

If there are any questions concerning Robin's time on board under my command, please do not hesitate to call me on +34 653 551 478, or via email at joefish67@gmail.com.

Signed,

Joseph Jackson,
Captain, S/Y Paz.
