

23 September 2011

San Remo, Italy

To whom it may concern,

Robin Delves has been employed on board S/Y Phoea as second officer since 18 October 2010 till 30 September 2011.

S/Y Phoea is a 75m busy private and charter sailing yacht that cruises around the Med and Caribbean. During his period onboard Phoea has sailed over 13.000 NM.

I have been very impressed by Robin, he proved to be a very safe and efficient officer on watch, has an extensive knowledge of sailing and rigging.

Robin possess a natural ability for leadership, therefore he managed the deck department without a problem.

Robin is a very reliable, hard working person that was much liked by crew and the guests; he has a great sense of humor, always smiles even when working long hours.

I have enjoyed working with Robin and much regret his decision to move on, however I highly recommend him to any Captain or company who is looking for a serious and very precise officer.

Sincerely

Herve Riou
Chief Officer
